Dangler In, Then Out, Now In Constitutionally

Richard Dangler's appointment as Junior Public Defender last week was ruled unconstitutional this week because of parliamentary procedure violations.

During the intervening seven day period Robert's Rules of order were consulted and Dr. Margaret McKoane discovered that Three-Quarters of the board was needed to overrule the requirement for a student to have completed one semester of work at the college before holding an office in the ASSSC.

Action Rescinded

Because only seven of the 12 members were present last week the action was taken in violation and was therefore rescinded.

Later in the meeting Dangler was again appointed to the post upon waiver of the requirement by nine of the 12 members. The statute was then re-established.

A statute, rewritten since last week's veto by Darryl Enos, president, was presented to the board and passed unanimously. The new wording made the statement less confusing and Enos did not repeat his vetoing motion.

BOJ Write Opinion

As of today the Board of Justice is required to have at least four of the five members in attendance to conduct business. They also have to write majority opinions in any case that effects policies, statutes, by-laws, ASSSC acts or the constitution.

The office of chairman of Associated Women Students will be elected by the members of the organization instead of the woman's representative being automatically the chairman as it has been this year.

AWS requested this ruling in the belief that two interested people would be better than one. The woman's representative will be an ex-officio member of the group.

This was accomplished by the amending and revision of Article VIII, ASSSC policies, by the legislature last Wednesday.

Push Cart Flag Falls Thursday

Sterling Moss won't be there for the start of the push-cart race Thursday, but almost everyone else will be. The checkered flag will fall at 1 p.m., signaling the start of one of the west's most exciting races.

Two races will be run. The men's division will feature carts pushed by men and driven by women. The roles will be reversed in the women's division with the women pushing and the men driving.

First place trophys will be awarded in each division. Ribbons will be given to all members of both the first and second place teams in both divisions.

As is customary in events of this type, the design and performance specifications of the various entries are closely guarded secrets, but all indications are it will be a close hard fought race.

One of the most popular events of Hornet Holidays, the push cart race always provides thrills, excitement and good fun for both spectators and participants. John Zelton, committee chairman, promises another exciting race and urges everyone to be on hand.

Track Meet Spotlights Friday Fun

Hornet Holidays spotlight will switch to the track Friday at 3 p.m. when the individual track and field competition will be held.

Any fulltime student not participating in a spring sport may enter the competition.

Three perpetual trophies will be presented. One will go to the overall high point team, one for the individual participant with the highest score and one for the fraternity relay.

First and second place ribbons will be awarded in all events.

Included in the meet will be 13 events: the 880 yard run: 100 yard dash; 440 yard run; 120 yard low hurdles; 200 yard dash; 440 yard fraternity relay; 1 mile run; and 880 open relay.

Field events will include a football throw, baseball throw, 12 pound shot put, high jump and broad jump.

Students may enter for their campus organization, as individuals or form independent teams.

International OK's Delta Sigma Chi

Recently reorganized Delta Sigma Chi has received official acceptance for affiliation with international fraternity Delta Sigma Pi, professional business administration fraternity.

New officers of the campus chapter were installed Sunday at a banquet at El Mirador. Delegations from chapters at University of Nevada, Chico State College, San Francisco State College and University of San Francisco were present.

Young Republicans Set Debate On John Birch

The Young Republicans are sponsoring a debate on the John Birch Society between Leonard Finder, editor and publisher of the Sacramento Union, and Thomas M. Manion, Northern California coordinator of the John Birch Society in the Sierra room, on Thursday at 1 p.m.

Manion, a Democrat, has been the paid Northern California Birch coordinator since January. He lives with his wife and two sons in the Meadow Vista area of Placer County. Manion's area includes all of Northern California north of Modesto except for the Bay Area.

Joined Birchers

Manion has said that he worked hard to get John F. Kennedy elected to the presidency. Shortly afterwards he joined the John Birch Society. In June, 1962, he ran for the Democratic assembly nomination, and worked for Congressman John Rousselot, who was defeated and is now head of Birch activities in the six western states.

Manion was formerly a field representative for the United States Chamber of Commerce. His uncle is Clarence Manion, retired dean of the Notre Dame University School of Law, and a member of the Birch Society's national executive committee.

Publishes Union

Finder, president, editor and publisher of the Sacramento Union since May 19[illegible], was formerly vice-president and secretary of Universal Match Corporation. Prior to that, he was publisher of the Manchester (New Hampshire) Evening Leader.

Finder's friendship with General Dwight D. Eisenhower received national publicity in 1948 when the General addressed to him the historic letter announcing the former's intention not to be a candidate for the presidency.

Wrote For Colliers

Finder is the author of various articles including "Why Ike Will Run," which appeared in Collier's in November, 1951, and which served to springboard Eisenhower's successful campaign for the presidency.

Finder, former president of B'nai B'rith for Northeastern section of the United States and Eastern Canada, is also a member of numerous local, state, and national civic, professional, and service organizations.

Since acquiring the Union, Finder has written several editorials highly critical of the John Birch Society.

Mike Frost, president of the SSC Young Republicans, has commented that "the debate should be very interesting."

Dinner, Sale, Top Highlight Wednesday

Action for three Hornet Holidays activities will commence at 5 p.m. Wednesday. An all-college dinner will be held in Alumni Grove from 5 to 7 p.m.

During the dinner a slave sale will be conducted by auctioneer Sam Miller. Slaves to be sold include Dr. Guy West, Dr. Donald Bailey, Darryl Enos, John Fitzgerald, Sally Martin, Lenore Cantrell, Charlie Anderson, Pat Skinner and Judy Olive.

Bidding will start at 5:30 p.m. at $1 and proceed in 25 cent intervals. Slaves are required to do one hour of reasonable work Wednesday night or Thursday.

Chairman of the events are Donna Blauert, Donna Roberts, Gerry McLean and Kathie McLean.

Moonlight Swim will begin at 7 p.m. and last until 10 p.m. A faculty-student basketball game will be held in the Men's Gymnasium from 8 to 9 p.m. Volleyball, badminton, table tennis and other activities also are offered.

Organizations Ratify ICC Constitution

In another attempt to strengthen campus student organizations, the second Inter-Club Council ratified its constitution on April 29.

All recognized ASSSC organizations are eligible for membership in ICC provided they meet the provisions set forth.

Organizations can strengthen themselves by joining the Council. Through ICC there will be an exchange of ideas and probably better relationship between clubs.

The council will disseminate information and recommend revisions and additions to the ASSSC by-laws and policies concerning student organizations.

Each organization may have two delegates but only one vote. Decisions will be made by a majority vote of those organizations present, provided there is a quorum, which is on half of the membership eligible to vote.

Next Monday, election of officers will take place. Meetings will be held on an average of twice a month.

Completed 1965?

Voters May Direct Union Program

By JIM SHOCK

Student acceptance of the College Union will be tested by a vote in the Fall if all plans procede on schedule according to John Fitzgerald, chairman of the College Union Committee. "Actual construction is forecast to be completed by 1965 upon student acceptance," he added.

Designed as a community center for the student, faculty, administration and staff for the promotion of service, recreation, education and cultural opportunities, the chairman has asked for additional student participation in sub-committees.

Work will have to procede through the summer in order to maintain the time order of completion Fitzgerald said. We need a facilities committee, a location committee and an organizational structure committee, he added.

Members of the Facility Committee will make a detailed study of the existing programs and also recommend additional services to be contained in the building. Often mentioned have been such things as bowling lanes and a barber shop, however these ideas will have to be formulated into a plan.

The Location Committee will work along with the College Planning Committee to determine the actual location of the building. This will have to take into consideration the future growth of the campus along with the immediate need for a central location in 1965. The site of the outdoor theater has been mentioned.

Organization of the union (hiring a manager, planning a program, and scheduling conflicts) will be settled by the Organization Committee. They will also try to predict how the Union will fit into the existing ASSSC structure.

"If we get a College Union it will depend upon each student, that is, we need student help on the sub-committees," Fitzgerald said.

Interested people may contact Fitzgerald in the Board of Directors office or by placing a note in his mailbox in the Student Lounge.

Hornets Host Chico Nine In Makeup Tilts

Cal Boyes' SSC baseball squad entertains the Chico State baseballers today in a double header makeup of April 20th's rained out games.

The Hornets are two and two in Far Western Conference play after splitting a pair of games with the Cal Aggies in Davis Saturday.

Jerry Steinke, SSC righthander went the distance in the first game for the win, 6-3, as first baseman Tom Pugliese and Chuck Swimley each collected two hits. Chuck Davis added a triple to the Hornet total of nine. Steinke bested former ARJC teammate Mike Sloss, the Cal Aggie starter, who was removed in the fifth inning.

Ron Conway and Dick Carriere led the Aggie attack, Conway getting three hits and Carriere two, including a triple.

In the second game won by the Aggies, 6-2, SSC starter Ross Stone gave up four runs in the first inning, three on a homerun by Cal Aggie first baseman Jack Anderson. Anderson later clouted a 450 foot belt that lodged in the center field fence and was ruled a double.

Stone was replaced in the third inning by Spider Thomas, after allowing a total of five runs. Thomas went the rest of the way, giving up one more run on a hit by his pitching opponent, Rich Smith.

Smith took over for Sloss in the first game, then started the second game. He completed the second game, giving the Hornets a total of seven hits and two runs over the nine inning route.

Brodie Walks To AAU Win

Mike Brodie, SSC trackman and Olympic hopeful, passed a test when he won the AAU national senior walking title held in Los Angeles' Echo Park Sunday.

Brodie's time for the 30-kilometer grind was 2 hours 49 minutes 33.6 seconds, over five minutes ahead of the second place finisher.
